

Padlet: 11th Grade U.S. History

Connor Ames, Taylor Fikac, Cassie Marsh, and Ixca Munoz

Using Padlet in the Classroom!

- ❖ Create a wall of student questions before beginning a project.
- ❖ Create a vocabulary board for a reading selection.
- ❖ List facts and opinions about a topic, reading or piece of writing.
- ❖ Record a “firestorm” of ideas when talking as a class.
- ❖ Use as a space to reflect on an on-going class read-aloud story.
- ❖ Post a video and have students post responses.
- ❖ Make predictions before reading a story, performing an experiment, or solving a problem.
- ❖ Post facts learned about a topic during the scope of a unit.
- ❖ Use as an assignment/homework alternative to collect responses.
- ❖ So much more!

TEKS Addressed Using Padlet

- ❖ 16(C): Analyze the effects of the Great Depression on the U.S. economy and society such as widespread unemployment and deportation and repatriation of people of Mexican heritage.
- ❖ 16(E): Describe how various New Deal agencies and programs, including the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Securities and Exchange Commission, and the Social Security Administration, continue to affect the lives of U.S. citizens.
- ❖ 18(A): Evaluate the impact of New Deal legislation on the historical roles of state and federal government.

The Great Depression

The screenshot shows a Padlet board with a green background. At the top left, it says 'padlet' and 'Taylor Fikac · 7h'. The title is '11th Grade US History' with the subtitle 'Made with the best of intentions'. At the top right are icons for heart, REMAKE, SHARE, settings, and a user profile. Below the title, there are six white sticky notes with the following text: 'Hoovervilles', 'Bogus Army', 'Herbert Hoover', 'Welfare State', 'Franklin D. Roosevelt', and 'Court Packing'. Each note has a three-dot menu icon on its right side. Below the first note, there is a text input field with 'Taylor Fikac' entered and a 'Write something ...' placeholder. A red arrow points from the text 'For the title, students will need to put their name (i.e., name of each group member).' to this input field. Below the input field is a toolbar with icons for upload, link, comment, image, and more options. Below the toolbar is a plus sign icon. At the bottom of the board, there is another plus sign icon.

For the title, students will need to put their name (i.e., name of each group member).

If students fail to do this important step, it will be very difficult to tell which student has added to the Padlet!

The Great Depression

The image shows a Padlet board titled "11th Grade US History" by Taylor Fikac. The board has a green background and displays several terms related to the Great Depression in white boxes: "Hoovervilles", "Bogus Army", "Herbert Hoover", "Welfare State", "Franklin D. Roosevelt", and "Court Packing". Each box has a plus sign below it, indicating where to add content. On the left, there is a text input area for Taylor Fikac with the placeholder "Write something ...". At the bottom, there is a plus sign for adding new posts. The board also features standard Padlet interface elements like a heart icon, "REMAKE", "SHARE", and a settings gear.

For the purpose of this assignment, students have been asked to define one term using their own words, add a primary source (i.e., picture), and discuss the relevance of the term to The Great Depression and/or current society.

Each group will then present their post to the class!
For homework, students will respond individually to two posts!

The Great Depression

The screenshot shows a Padlet board with a green background. At the top, the title '11th Grade US History' is displayed, along with the creator's name 'Taylor Fikac' and the time '7h'. Below the title, there are six white rectangular cards, each containing a term related to the Great Depression: 'Hoovervilles', 'Bogus Army', 'Herbert Hoover', 'Welfare State', 'Franklin D. Roosevelt', and 'Court Packing'. Each card has a small plus sign to its right. In the bottom left corner, a text input box is open, showing the name 'Taylor Fikac' and the placeholder text 'Write something...'. A red arrow points from the text 'To add their personal definitions, students will type in the box labeled "Write Something..."' to this input box. The input box also contains icons for uploading, linking, commenting, and sharing.

Relevance: A "Hooverville" was a shanty town built during the Great Depression by the homeless in the United States. They were named after Herbert Hoover, who was President of the United States during the onset of the Depression and was widely blamed for it.

Students will then complete the last step of the assignment using the term they chose - discuss the relevance of the term to The Great Depression. Here is where they will include the current event & link the article.
